THERE IS WORK FOR ALL

The demand for local labor has now reached the point of having practically absorbed the supply. There is work for more. The work may not appeal to the liking of everyone but there is a call now at the Mayor's office for laborers. The attempt of some contractors to cut men down below a living wage is not fair or just and the claim that laborers can be secured from Boston at any price will be condemned as taking an unfair advantage. The only way to treat these men out of work is to be fair. They must receive a wage that will care for themselves and their families. Let the square deal policy serve at this time.

PRISONERS SENT HERE FROM WEST COAST

Men Transferred From Transport Arethusa in Lower Harbor.

The naval transport Arethusa arrived in the harbor on Monday with seventy-five court martial prisoners from the Pacific coast for the naval prison. The men are from the various ships of the fleet on the west coast and are sent here owing to the lack of room in the naval prison at Mare Island station. The transport had a lot of various stores aboard for stations on the Atlantic coast and remained in the lower harbor just long enough for the tug Penacook to transfer the men for remainder of the trip to the yard.

Last year nearly 300 people visited the institution on Hospital Day.

EXTRA POLICE SWORN IN THE STRIKE DISTRICT

INVESTIGATING CONDITIONS IN COAL TERRITORY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 2The investigation by the Commerce Department into the underlying difficulties in the coal industry such as an intermittency of employment and irregularity of production was being expedited, it was learned today, with a view to secure data which might be used in the proposed administration plan for reorganizing the local industry. Hints of the administration plan for meeting the coal strike situation as devolved today in high official circles, indicated that these did not consider any specific proposal for the settlement of the present miners and operators controversy, but rather were confirmed with remedies by the fundamental difficulties underlying the general strike situation.

Court Steps In to Preserve Order

(By Associated Press)

Westerly, R. I., May 2.—Forty special constables were sworn in today to assist the police in preserving order as a result of disturbed conditions arising from the strike of construction laborers, which has been in progress since April 1. The strike is over a demand for wages of fifty cents an hour in the place of the forty cents an hour offered by the contracting firms. Five men were in the district court charged with attempt to intimidate laborers brought here to take the places of the strikers.

Pawtucket, R. I., May 2.—Deputy sheriffs on duty at the Jenckes' Spinning Company plant say the court's restraining order against picketing is becoming apparent. They said that yesterday and today the number of workers was materially increased, and application for work was being made by persons not previously employed at the plant. Newspapermen who counted the workers this morning say that over nine hundred entered the mill. Mill officials will give no statement.

Providence, R. I., May 2—A restraining order forbidding the officers, members and agents of the United Textile Workers of America from interferring with the business of employees of the Crown Manufacturing Company was issued today by Presiding Justice Tanner in the superior court here. The order is practically identical with that issued last Saturday, covering the plant of the Jenckes Spinning Company. The Crown Company's mill is situated partly in Rhode Island and partly in Massachusetts.

15,000 GALLONS BEER DUMPED INTO SEWER

(By Associated Press)

Pittsfield, Mass., May 2.—Fifteen thousand gallons of beer, valued at between fifteen and twenty thousand dollars will be turned into the sewer at the Berkshire Brewing Association's plant here today by Federal officers. The company, which long had been engaged in business, decided recently to suspend. Owing to the fact that the manufacture of beer was not given the legal encouragement that at times had been promised during the last year or so, it was decided to destroy the beverage.

FOUR COLLEGE GIRLS SUSPENDED

(By Associated Press)

Wellesley, Mass., May 2.—The cause of the suspension of four members of the junior class at Wellesley College was explained by college authorities today as motoring at night, going to affairs without chaperones, and under false registration. Absence from the college dormitories was not involved in the disciplinary action, a college official said in discussing earlier reports that the young women had remained away from the dormitories over night.

M'CARTHY CASE GOES TO JURY

The joint case of McCarthy against the Atlantic Corporation and the Corporation against McCarthy, was given to the jury in the superior court at noon today. Attorney Scammon for the defendant company addressed the jury from 9 to 10 a. m. and Judge Guptill made his plea from 10 to 11. Judge Branch completed his charge just before 12 o'clock. The case opened on Monday. The jury had not returned at 2.30.

FRENCH DELEGATE RETURNS TO FRANCE FROM GENOA

(By Associated Press)

Genoa, May 2.—Vice-Premier Barthou, head of the French delegation at the Economic Conference, left for Paris this morning for a conference with Premier Poincare and the cabinet. Before leaving, he conferred with Prime Minister Lloyd George. The atmosphere of the meeting was said to be most cordial. M. Barthou before leaving answered the letter written by M. Tchitcherin on April 30, in which the Russian Foreign Minister denied the existence of secret military or political clauses in the Russo-German treaty. M. Barthou declared the French Government desired to maintain only the most cordial relations with the Russian people generally.

The sub-committee on Russian affairs was to meet this afternoon for final approval of the memorandum to the Russians. The document provides for establishment of a mixed arbital commission for controlling the debts owed to holders of Russian government bonds, the chairman of which would be named by Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court. A mixed tribunal would be set up to deal with the question of the property of foreigners in Russia which has been nationalized. Belgium alone was against the latter feature, France abandoning her objection to Great Britain's project.

WOMEN WORKERS MUST BE PROTECTED

Baltimore, Md., April 29—Pointing to the 12,000,000 wage earning women in the United States Miss Mary E. McDowell of Chicago told the National League of Women voters recently that "the handicaps of the women wage earner demand that society for its own sake shall safeguard her health and her future working conditions that unbuild and do not debase the American standard of living."

Miss McDowell who delivered her report as chairman of the committee on women in industry, a non-partisan unified technical training for women who desire to work with tools and metals.

"A late study shows that 85 per cent of the wage earning women are supporting others," Miss McDowell continued in her report.

"Our social security lies in an unpauperized, unslave working class. We ask for minimum wage boards to prevent any group of wage earning women being paid a pauperizing wage, because a low paid group is a menace to social and industrial life. The business built upon low paid women workers is a parasitical industry that depends upon the consumptive power it vitalizing its victims.

"We ask for an eight-hour day; for one day's rest in seven and for prohibition of night work for women because the American standard of living demands an healthy, rested motherhood.

"The children of tired mothers will be unequal to the future demands of an American democracy.

"We women voters want every safeguard thrown about the millions of young women wage earners. We want women employment managers in factories and stores. We want trained, efficient, sympathetic women who love to work with tools and metal as well as those who prefer the traditional domestic science line. We women voters want women on all mediatorial boards that deal with industrial differences where the interests of women workers are involved. Family life, the cornerstone of our American society, must be safeguarded every means that is within the power of the new political opportunity. Women have political equality but 'no equality in the world of work.'"

NEWS FROM THE ATLANTIC HEIGHTS

Playground Instructor Clarence E. Towne of the Y. W. C. A. successfully entertained about 50 men and boys at the Welfare Club Monday evening with a large variety of amusing and beneficial exercises. Games were also indulged in and all enjoyed the sport. Mr. Towne gave a talk on physical training and also a description of the Y. M. C. A. camp at Raymond which will be occupied by the boys during the month of July.

A feature of the Girl Scout entertainment on Thursday evening will be a reading by Miss Helena Rich.

ESTABLISH NEW USED CAR POLICY

Motor Dealers Find Honest Allowance in "Trade-Ins" Is Just to All.

Every industry which has a market value for a used article sooner or later establishes through dire experience that the allowable value must be scientifically determined and standardized if the policy of "trade in" is to be continued. This fact recently came fact to face with the automobile dealers throughout the country.

The solution has been fairly and successfully in previous years in such industries as the piano, the sewing machine, the typewriter, the adding machine and many other lines. The same misfortune was as flagrant in those industries before a "trade-in" value was standardized as obtained in the previous loosely conducted basis used by the automobile dealers in allowing for a used car when selling a new car. The above mentioned industries came in for the same temporary unjustified criticisms that are now applied to the automobile dealers. The criticisms simmer down to two principal ones, such as a united front to reduce used car values and a desire by the dealers to make a profit on the used cars as well as on the new cars sold.

Criticism of this character arise from analyzing the question from only a superficial one-sided viewpoint.

The fallacy of the remark that the automobile dealers have united to reduce the value of used cars is quite preposterous when you consider that such action would really retard the sale of new cars and merely stimulate the work of repair garages. It is very plausible to say that any industry would purposely establish a policy that would hinder its own growth by restricting its sales and profits?

What the automobile dealers are trying to accomplish is the same principle which all the great insurance companies have successfully operated on for years—an intelligent, scientific basis of mortalities. The insurance companies apply this scientific basis on the insurance placed on your car. They will not insure your car for a much the second year as they did the first year, nor as much the third year as they did the second.

The reasons for this are quite clear to you and they are very similar to the reasons which governed the dealers in carefully determining the fair valuation to place on a used car. Succintly the basis is:

First—The present market price for a new car of the latest model of the particular car to be "traded in".

Second—The overhauling and repairing expense and the selling expense involved in selling the used car.

Third—The supply and demand and location of market for used cars of that particular make.

The other principal criticism is that the dealer wants to make a profit on both the "trade-in" car and the new car.

It is admitted that the dealers want to make a profit on the new cars because that is what they are entitled to, but bear in mind that the discount to dealers runs between 15 and 20 per cent gross. From this they must take care of every expense in conducting the business before any profit is possible.

As to making a profit on the old cars they take "in trade," the recent figures from the National Dealers' association will answer this. They show that in 1921 31,000 dealers were forced into bankruptcy by the reason of taking in second hand cars at an allowance of more than these cars would resell for—and fortunes lost in this way by these dealers last year amounted to $233,000,000.

Any dealer would welcome having you sell your used car yourself and purchase the new car as a clean sale. To take in your old car means first the dealer has to gamble on getting his money out of it. He has to overhaul it and sometimes spend as much more as what he allowed you in order to put it into saleable condition. Oftentimes he has to give it storage room for a number of months while his capital stands tied up in this old car. Frequently he spends considerable money advertising it for sale.

During the years 1917 to 1920, many new makes of cars were brought out on the market and some of those cars were listed at a price that allowed a dealer to take in a used car at an over valuation. The apparent loss to him was really sustained by the customer in the purchase price of the new car because the customer paid more than the car was worth compared to other similar cars on the market. However, the automobile manufacturers of today realize that what the public wants is quality and a fair price and this price to be based solely on the quality of the new car, and not to include any allowance on used cars. The used car must be a separate transaction.

Therefore, the present Automobile Dealers' Association is now correcting this abuse when crept in during previous years. The A. D. A. of New Hampshire with the Dealers' Association of New Hampshire, now use a schedule for "trade-in" which was prepared after careful and scientific analysis.

This policy of an honest allowance for a used car when selling a new car will be the means of giving a fair deal to the buyer of the new car—a fair deal to the buyer of the used car—and a legitimate profit to the dealer for the new car sold. Before this equitable basis was devised the automobile dealers throughout the country were playing an undesired part in being the rope in a tug-of-war— with the new car buyer pulling on one end and the used car buyer on the opposite end. The strain on the rope stands out in bold relief when you consider that 31,000 automobile dealers became bankrupts with losses of $233,000,000.

265 BARRELS OF CIDER SEIZED AT NEWBURYPORT

Newburyport, May 1—State Enforcement Officer James P. Roberts and a large detail of his deputies caused considerable excitement here this afternoon when they raided the farm house of James E. Adams and seized about 265 barrels of cider. The cider was loaded on trucks and driven to the Caldwells Distillery, where it will be stored under government supervision.

The cider is alleged to have been aged, and Mr. Roberts said that at present prices the captured liquor would be worth about $65,000. The farm house is on the Dummer Academy road. The cider was found in the large barn in the rear of the house.

Police officials say the raid is one of the largest ever conducted in the state.

BLACK CAT STOPS DOG RACE IN MIAMI

Miami, Fla.—A black cat caused abandonment one day recently of the greyhound race meet being conducted here by the Miami Kennels club and the dogs now are chasing a new mechanical rabbit. A small electric trolley is laid in the center of the course and at the beginning of a race a stuffed rabbit, mounted on the trolley is started from the tape. The bunny is given a few yards start and the greyhounds released at a signal, do their utmost to catch it. A few yards beyond the finish, the rabbit ducks into a trap door, while the dogs are clogged as they cross the line.

The dogs for five weeks had chased the rabbit when an inquiring black cat wandered onto the course. One of the judges to save the kitty from rough handling by the hounds, did 100 yards in ten seconds flat and captured her. The cat was released behind the grand stand with a warning, and it was believed she would stay, but she didn't.

The first race got under way and the stuffed rabbit was making a streak down the course with the greyhounds in full tilt after it.

The cat, disregarding the warning, had wandered onto the track again, and had climber onto a rafter under the trolley easing for a siesta. The swiftly moving bunny struck her and hit the mechanism.

The management issued rain checks to the spectators, sent for several carpenters to repair damages, raided a taxidermist's shop for another stuffed rabbit and the races were resumed the next day.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The motion picture booth is receiving the "finishing touches" by members of the manual training class of the high school, and will soon be ready for use. The showing of such pictures as "Alice in Wonderland," "Jack in the Bean Stalk," "Theodore Roosevelt, the Great American," and "The Little Minister" etc. will be welcomed by all picture lovers. Saturday will be known as "Picture day" with a showing at 3 for the boys and girls and at 7.30 for the young men and women of the city. This will continue in the building until the weather is so as to permit the showing out of doors, throughout the summer months, in the lot in the rear of the building.

Applications are coming in for Camp Onway, the Y. M. C. A. Camp. Mr. Towne will be in charge of the athletic and aequatics and will be in charge of the Portsmouth boys. The camp will be in advance of last years camp, in many ways, and every red-blooded boy will want to spend at least two weeks under canvas with his chums.

The ninth annual older boys conference of Rockingham County will be held in Epping May 12, 13 and 14th. A large delegation is going from the local association. This promises to be a most interesting and helpful conference. Several matters of great interest to the growing boy in his teens, will be presented by men of ability. Every interested boy is urged to join the local group. The group will be organized with a leader, and cheer leader, with songs and cheers for both the banquet and the general gatherings. Arm bands will be worn showing the delegates where the individual boys are from. Portsmouth will have their full quota registered.

Three new games have been purchased for the out-of-doors program. Hand Ball, which is so popular with the young men, the old dart game of throwing darts at the bulls eye, and push ball are all new. Push ball consists of a large rubber ball filled with air, and after sides have been chosen, the ball is placed on the mark and the players endeavor to push it into the opponents field, it being a great game for all players. Hand ball, volley ball, indoor base ball, tennis, and basket ball will also be played. This is ideal weather for the boys and young men to leave the hot building and gymnasium and play their games in the sunshine and fresh air, after which the hot shower bath will be enjoyed, and the blood sent rushing through the body again with renewed vigor.

Meeting of the Newsboys tonight at 7, for gymnasium work and shower baths. League games will be played.

Over 100 boys enjoyed the "Guest Week" privileges of the Association. This in addition to the 231 members and the 100 odd from the schools who enjoyed the league games, makes at least 400 different boys that came under the influence of the Association.

Meeting of the Board of Directors tonight at 7.30 p. m. Matters of great importance are to be considered and a full attendance is desired.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE HELPING

Yesterday morning when the teachers inquired in the Franklin school how many children had used some of their spare time in the vacation of the previous week in cleaning up around their homes they were surprised at the result.

"How many helped in cleaning up last week?" the teacher asked. "Raise your hands, those who helped."

A young forest of hands shot up. There was not one missing. They reported that they had worked about in back yards raking up refuse and in dollars. The response was beyond the optimistic expectations of their teachers. Evidently the children from all over the schools contributed community service in this way, for the office of the Board of Public Works reports that an "awful" lot of refuse was gathered up last week. This morning the office had several requests for the trucks of the Board to call for refuse one being for fifteen barrels of stuff. Any one who has refuse to be collected may call the Street Commissioner's office, 306-M and it will be called for. This is the intensive week of the campaign.

At yesterday's meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce a vote of thanks to the committee of the Chamber which has been conducting the campaign was passed. The board commended it for its excellent work in promoting the clean up. The committee, which consisted of Mrs. F. W. Hartford, chairman, Miss H. E. Philbrook, Mrs. Alex Selden, A. B. Duncan and Howard Hamilton, has distributed window and automobile slogans to the merchants in every part of the city and buttons to the older school children.

One Woman's Experience

From all sides comes reports of the remarkable results secured through Ironized Yeast. The following unsolicited letter is typical of the hundreds we are receiving.

"I received your trial package of Ironized Yeast last week, and I cannot tell you how much better I feel. Before I finished the trial I knew it was helping me, so I purchased a full package.

"My husband is just delighted with the improvement in me. He tells me I have more life now than I ever had. Why, I always used to feel 'all-in' after my housework, but now I can do more work than ever, and never feel the least bit tired. Ironized Yeast is splendid!"—And thousands of others tell the same story.

The Reason Behind the Results

The reason Ironized Yeast brings such amazing results in so many cases is because it not only contains just the right amount of all three essential vitamines, but in addition contains a type of yeast which has positively no equal as a reconstructive agent—a yeast which is cultured expressly for medicinal purposes, and which is entirely different from the yeast found in ordinary yeast tablets.

But even more important than this is the fact that this yeast has been ironized—or treated through a scientific process with a special form of easily assimilated organic iron, similar to the iron found in spinach. When yeast is ironized in this manner it is found that results are not only more permanent, but are secured just twice as quickly!

Make This Amazing Test

PRINCES WHO LACK EDUCATION MUST STUDY

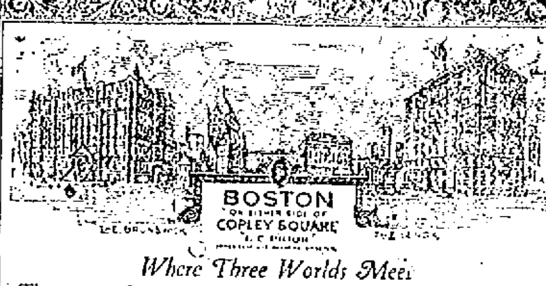

Constantinople. —Turkish princes have been found lacking in educational qualifications by the Council for the Affairs of the Imperial Family, which has decided to establish a secondary school exclusively for the use of young scions of royalty.

An investigation by the Council disclosed that since then only three Imperial Princes have been well educated in military matters, and they are graduates of German institutions. One of them now holds the rank of major, while the other two are captains. Omar Farouk Effendi, son of the heir-apparent, is a graduate of the Vienna Theresianum.

Fifteen other princes are said to have little if any military education and but limited schooling in general subjects. Hamdi Pasha, ex-Minister of Marine, has been instructed to draw up plans for their education and select a site for the royal school.

SEA PLANES DROP BREAD ON ICE BOUND SHIPS

Riga, Latvia.—The crews of four German steamers which for weeks were ice bound in the Gulf of Riga were supplied regularly with fresh bread by Latvian military aviators. Fishermen reported the vessels running short of provisions and airmen from Riga made trips every few days carrying food for the sailors, the bread being dropped in sacks on the ice near the hemmed-in steamers.

QUEEN WILL NOT VISIT U. S. THIS YEAR

(By Associated Press)

Sibiu, (Hermannstadt) Transylvania — Queen Marie of Rumania probably will be obliged to defer her long-contemplated trip to the United States until next year.

She had hoped to visit New York prior to the coronation of herself and King Ferdinand, which will take place here August 16, but the wedding of her second daughter, Marie, to King Alexander of Jugoslavia, early in June will make it impossible.

There is has a number of official visits to make this year to European courts so that a voyage to America after the coronation in August is extremely improbable.

The popular Rumanian Queen desires to express her warm appreciation and thanks for the many invitations she has received from women's civic societies, other organizations and personal friends in the United States asking her to visit America this year.

She has even had invitations from motion-picture concerns, one of which offered her a flattering sum to appear in an American screen [illegible] "Queen of the [illegible]" [illegible] obviously had to decline [illegible].

The coronation ceremonies, which will take place in the heart of the ancient Transylvanian Alps, will be on a scale of lavishness and regal grandeur hitherto unknown in the Balkans. A magnificent cathedral of Byzantine design, costing millions of francs, has been especially erected in Sibiu for the crowning of Europe's most beautiful Queen and King Ferdinand. The Rumanian parliament has appropriated an immense sum for the event. Most of the reigning sovereigns and heads of state throughout Europe have been invited. It is hoped here President Harding will send someone to represent the United States.

King Ferdinand and Queen Marie ascended the throne just before the beginning of the world war, and the uncertainties of the struggle made it necessary to postpone the coronation from year to year. August 16, which has been finally chosen for the event, is the anniversary of Rumania's entry into the war.

KEEN RIVALRY IN THE DANUBE SHIPPING FRONT

(By Associated Press)

Prague, April 5—Keen rivalry for predominance in the Danube shipping is developing among the three land-locked fragments of the dismembered Hapsburg Empire—Austria, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. The Danube river is their sea, and port facilities mean traffic and national income. Hence, one form of their competition is to build up their respective ports—Vienna, Pressburg now called Bratislava (and Budapest situated close to each other on a bend of the river.

With the prospect of a connecting canal system between the Danube and the Rhine through Bavarian enterprise, the Danube is coming to be regarded here as the greatest artery of trade in Europe of tomorrow and the Hunkers were aware of this when they founded their River Syndicate.

The first struggle between the three ports was to get the Allies Danube Commission. Bratislava won but the term was fixed for five years and the commission will next go where the biggest traffic is. This is spurring the Czechs to increase the traffic capacity of Bratislava to 1,000,000 tons this year and ultimate plans call for a capacity of 3,000,000 tons.

MAY READ BIBLE THRU NEWSPAPERS

(By Associated Press)

Cincinnati—At an expense of one dollar for every million readers, the Back to the Bible Bureau of Cincinnati, is getting one verse of Scripture daily printed in about one thousand American newspapers and magazines. Its total daily Scripture readers are estimated at 10,000,000 now two years after the bureau's inauguration.

A goal of 110,000,000 Bible verse readers daily is announced, with a five year program to make it effective. The bureau's idea is that daily reading of one Bible verse makes for good citizenship and that the best pulpit through which to reach all persons is the daily press. The organization is non sectarian, its daily verses going to publications of all faiths, free of charge, and not only to newspapers but to trade journals, and to society and labor publications.

How the idea started and its rapid growth is described by George W. Hartzell, a Dayton, Ohio manufacturer, an advisory member of the bureau. The chairman is James N. Gamble of the Proctor and Gamble Company.

The bureau was inaugurated two years ago by Addison Y. Reid of Cincinnati, who is now its secretary. He had been conducting a propaganda for prohibition sending daily contributions to a number of newspapers and paying for their publication. With the adoption of the prohibition amendment Mr. Reid stopped that work, but decided to try a campaign of Biblical verse.

At first he paid for the publication of daily Bible verses just the same as he had paid for the propaganda. The verses went to only a few newspapers. After about six months paid publications other newspapers becoming interested, and discovering that Mr. Reid was publishing the Scriptural quotations asked him to supply them also offering to make publication without charge. Thereupon Mr. Reid stopped paying for insertion of the verses and the present bureau was inaugurated.

Mr. Hartzell said that in these two years the bureau has expended $10,000 all of it for printing and for postage as there are no other expenses, all the work being voluntarily done by a group of Cincinnati residents. The response to the bureau's little offering the Scriptures has been uniform from all sections of the country Mr. Hartzell stated. The daily papers now publishing include 46 in Canada and publications in Hawaii, the Philippines and Korea.

Many papers have been putting the daily verse at the head of the editorial column but not all.

"A large Ohio daily," said Mr. Hartzell is running the verse completely across its daily comic page. When I asked the editor why he chose that position he replied.

"'Why don't you want it in the most conspicuous place?'

"This editor added, laughing 'Perhaps the readers of the comics need balancing more than anyone else.'

"The editor of a Bellingham Washington paper made a personal investigation to discover whether subscribers really read these daily verses. He reported that he found that thousands actually read them.

FAMINE SHIP REACHES PORT

Constantinople.—Living for 16 days on [illegible] and fresh water and United bread rations, 300 children and 250 adult Greeks have arrived here on the Greek steamer Michael Archangel from Novorossisk, Russia, with no food or water aboard.

Suffering from cholera and other epidemic diseases, many of the refugees were ill and two had died at sea. Greek military authorities and delegates of the Greek High Commission inspected the ship, supplied medical aid and arranged for emergency food supplies to last the vessel until she reached Saloniki, where the able-bodied will be debarked for transportation to the tobacco farms and road camps in the vicinity of Kavalla.

These refugees were recruited from among the more than 20,000 Greeks who were driven from their homes by the Bolsheviki and who have been waiting two years for repatriation. The condition of the others is said to be serious, with from 25 to 30 dying daily of hunger.

"They Satisfy"

PRESENT POPE ALWAYS WISHED TO VISIT U. S.

Rome—Pope Pius XI harbors [illegible] one deep regret and that is his failure to visit the New World before his elevation to the Holy See.

"I was so anxious to visit the United States, Brazil and Argentina," he said recently. "But I thought I had plenty of time. I never dreamed that I would be elected Pope."

Diplomats and ecclesiastical dignitaries are playing an important part in the new Pontiff's efforts to familiarize himself with the affairs of his church in every land. Cardinals are usually accorded interviews lasting two hours or more, while ambassadors are seldom dismissed before they have spent an hour with the Pope.

"He is evidently feeling his way and trying to understand the complicated machinery in all its parts," said one ambassador, as he left the Vatican offices. "It is quite a striking contrast to Pope Benedict, who used to go straight to the heart of the subject in hand and exhaust it in a few moments."

His sympathetic attitude toward the American continents has encouraged Latin-American representatives of the Catholic church to hope for an increase in the number of Cardinals allotted them. Senor de Azaredo, Brazilian Ambassador to the Vatican, has pointed out to the new Pope that the United States, smaller in area and with a smaller Catholic population than Brazil's, has two Cardinals while Brazil has but one.

One of the [illegible] obstacles to granting Cardinals to Latin-America brought forward in the past is that the Sacred College cannot exceed 70 members, and that the Pope, following traditional law, must leave a few vacancies to be filled by his successor. This argument is controverted by Senor Azaredo on the ground that the present limitation to 70 Cardinals was established nearly 400 years ago, when no one could foresee the development of the American continents.

WELL PLEASED WITH AMERICAN BANK SYSTEM

(By Associated Press)

Toledo, Ohio—That the federal reserve system of the United States had done a great service to the world and was a deciding factor in winning the war for the allies was the statement made here to bankers representing the Toledo Clearing House Association by John Jacob Arnold of the Bank of Italy.

Mr. Arnold who represents his institution in its foreign service in this country, said in part:

"Previous to the great war European bankers looked upon the banking system of the United States as a rather incomplete affair, but since the establishment of the federal reserve system the completeness of your banking system is recognized by all the great bankers of the world. Especially are the London banks appreciative of the make-up and results it has achieved since its formation."

Arnold said he believed the country was well on the way to permanent recovery from the effects of the war. He said the great need was production in the famished countries of Europe.

ADVERTISERS MEET IN CHICAGO ON WEDNESDAY

Chicago, May 1.—Extensive displays of advertising material will mark the semi-annual meeting of the Association of National Advertisers here May 3-6. The membership includes 315 large manufacturers who are large advertisers.

At the gathering, the motive of which is announced under three distinct heads—the market, the method and the machine—will be exhibited copies furnished by national advertisers of the most productive advertisements used during the last year in general periodicals, newspapers, class, technical, trade and farm papers; specimens of the most potential direct mail advertising pieces; copies of unique issues of house organs; sketches made for striking and effective posters and outdoor bulletins and samples of effective street car cards. The foregoing will come under the head of the "method."

In dealing with the "market" market analyses, investigations and surveys carrying information on marketing conditions will be shown.

Under the head of "machine" sales promotion department organization charts and advertising department system forms of all kinds will be displayed.

Blue, red and white ribbons will be awarded by three judges who will pass on the relative merit of the exhibits.

A series of talks by prominent advertisers will be given.

General Grant.

April 27, the 100th anniversary of the birth of General Grant, was fittingly celebrated in many places throughout the country, but the event of chief interest was at Point Pleasant, Ohio, the birthplace of the General where the address was delivered by President Harding to a great and enthusiastic gathering.

In his address President Harding paid eloquent and deserved tribute to the memory of a man who stands among the great leaders of America in war and peace, and reminded his hearers that what the world needs today is something of the spirit of General Grant, one of the bravest and most successful of soldiers and one of the greatest lovers of peace. Grant fought because his country had need of fighting at the time, but when the need passed none was more eager for permanent peace than he. His magnanimity prevented him from taking the sword of General Lee when the end came. He was utterly free from vindictiveness, hatred and the spirit of boasting; utterly modest and unassuming at a time when he was recognized universally as a national and world hero.

And these great qualities marked him in his later career as President of the United States. In that high office he strove for the healing of the wounds made by the Civil War, his most earnest desire being to see the country reunited and bound together in the bonds of enduring peace.

The President was safe in saying he believed that General Grant would have approved the course taken by this country in the World War, and what it has since done in the interest of world peace, without surrendering any independence or giving up any of the nationality for which it fought. "His fame is secure," said President Harding. "The republic has not forgotten and will not forget."

True indeed are those words. The republic has not forgotten and will not forget the matchless work of General Grant in war and his wise and patient leadership in peace. His name stands high on the scroll of America's great and true. The people of this great nation have not forgotten and will never forget.

The career of General Grant was remarkable. He showed no special brilliancy while in training at West Point, nor afterward until called to the front in the Civil War. But when he took command of the Union forces it soon became evident that the needed leader had arrived and from that time the southern confederacy was doomed. There was much hard and bloody work yet to be done, but Grant was equal to all demands. His men and his government had implicit confidence in him, and this confidence was never betrayed or disappointed. He was the man for the occasion and the outcome of the mighty struggle was foreordained from the moment he was placed in supreme command.

General Grant's part in the Civil War constitutes a proud page in American history. Quiet, modest and unassuming, he bore his honors without ostentation, content to be a plain American citizen, proud of the country he had helped to save from dissolution.

No American youth can afford to ignore the life of General Grant. It shows to what heights the humblest start in life may lead, and that it is genuine work and worth that count in the battle of life, along whatever lines that battle may be fought. It is not possible for every boy to become a great general, but it is possible for every one to become a man, and it is as a man, as well as a general and high public official, that General Grant will be lovingly remembered as long as history is written and read.

Secretary Dinsmore of the Horse Association of America says Boston has more good horses in proportion to the total number than any other city in the United States. This is no small compliment and should cause the horse owners of the "Hub" to "throw themselves" more heartily than ever at the coming horse parade on Memorial Day.

The salary of the pastor of a Nashua church who recently invited an actress to speak from his pulpit—an invitation that was flatly turned down by the deacons—has been increased $200 a year, which leads the minister to remark that "it pays to advertise."

Marshal Joffre fell asleep the other night on the platform while being honored in New York. But the people have worked him pretty hard since his arrival in this country, and by napping he showed that he was not disturbed by what was being said.

A big moonshine plant in Norton, Mass., was seized a few days ago and the liquor found was said to be of superior quality. Can it be possible that the old saying, "Practice makes perfect," applies to the distilling of moonshine whiskey?

The Massachusetts state constabulary force of 50 men is to be increased to 140. This would indicate that the Legislature is convinced that the force is a good thing for the rural sections of the state, in which the greater part of its work is done.

A Buffalo chemist says that out of 600 samples of whiskey analyzed in the last month not one was found to be pure. But there is plenty of evidence that not all of the stuff is as deadly as has been represented.

BOSTON YARD CONGESTED WITH WARSHIPS

Boston, May 1—On account of the scarcity of berths at the Charlestown navy yard, it was necessary to float the steamer George Washington which arrived this afternoon into drydock No. 2. The steamer came from New York and repairs are to be rushed on her so that she may sail by May 6. The lack of berths is due to the arrival of battleships and destroyers.

The battleships Delaware and North Dakota arrived today at the yard, where they will be fitted out for the midshipmen's cruise. The Florida arrived Saturday afternoon.

GOLDEN RULE CIRCLE ENJOYS MAY PARTY

A May party was enjoyed by the Golden Rule Circle of King's Daughters at the Baptist chapel last evening, which was a novel and pretty affair. The regular meeting of the Circle was first held and the routine business transacted. Mrs. Tubman, Mrs. Tulley and Mrs. Edward Cornellus were chosen as a nominating committee for the next meeting when the annual election of officers will be held.

The chapel had pretty adornings of pink and green and in the middle of the floor was a May pole with streamers of crepe paper; attached to the end of each was a number and each member of the Circle present found the corresponding number on a plate filled with the May day lunch, which consisted of shrimp salad, rolls, olives, potato chips and fancy cake. Coffee was also served. Two tables were daintily arranged in the middle room, a bouquet of pink and white carnations, and dainty May baskets making very pretty effect. At the conclusion of the business session the Boy Scouts orchestra entertained the gathering for an hour or more, rendering pleasing selections. The members of the orchestra are: Woodbury Adams, violin; Russell Gray, pianist; Francis Tucker, cornet and Frederick Gardner, traps.

The committee in charge of the May party was Mrs. Florence Flanders, Mrs Morris Hurd, Mrs. George Gray, Mrs. George T. Goggins, Mrs. Frank Moore.

EXPECT MANY TO HEAR HARLEY

The people of Portsmouth are promised a treat on Thursday evening when Hon. Francis C. Harley, chairman of the National Liberal Alliance, comes here for the purpose of explaining the objects of the referendum now being conducted for a modification of the Volstead Law to permit the sale of beer and light wines, and to answer some of the criticism of those opposed to the change in the law.

Mr. Harley is especially anxious to come to Portsmouth whose history and progress is so closely identified with that of our country. It was here where the fires of patriotism burned brightest in those days when men and women were fighting for the liberty of mankind. "The battle waged on this issue is one of freedom of humanity from the slavery of fanaticism," said E. W. Emerson, assistant director of the New England campaign, "and I am pleased to have Mr. Harley come here, as the manger of American liberty, to tell the story of the cause for which we are fighting. Every nook and corner of your city speaks of the men to whom our country is indebted for the liberties we possessed before the crank and fanatic took control."

That Freeman's Hall will be filled is the prediction of those who have listened to the talk on the streets of the city since the announcement of the meeting. People are taking a keener interest in this move than in any political issue for years and they will want to hear the fighting Oregonian in action. Those who have heard him in other sections of New England say he is a forceful and convincing speaker and is not afraid to say what he thinks about those who he says are encroaching upon the liberty of their fellow men and trying to run this country on hypocracy.

FRIENDSHIP, LOVE AND TRUTH

Long ago men thoughtful planted
Here and there a little vine.
Carefully its roots protected
Asked its growth of one Divine.
Planted it in towns and cities
And it grew year after year.
And diffused along life's pathway
Blessings, such a souls need here.

Neath it many found a solace
As it thrived and stronger grew.
Neath it faint hearts took new courage;
Strength their life work to pursue
Friendship, Love and Truth so helpful
Came to all who sought this vine.
And it scattered countless blessings
Deeds of love that with it twine.

This fast spreading vine gave daily
Love to man and love to God.
Care for children, when their parents
Peaceful rest beneath the sod
Love that cares for sick and needy
Love that dries the mourner's tear.
Gave the wife, when left a widow,
Consolation, hope and cheer.

This vine touring, still kept growing
Strong and stronger year by year.
And here tarried many a traveller
Those who came from far and near.
Hands grasped cordial, hands of strangers
Cheer it gave to guests unknown,
Coupled with a hearty welcomes,
That brought thoughts of home sweet home.

With this vine was love fraternal,
Ties Odd Fellow will give,
Links that blind men close together
And holds fast where 'ere they live
And the wisdom shown in planting—
This vine, people see today,
Friendship, Love, and Truth in blessings
Links fraternal that hold sway.

TOWN WANTS MONEY BACK

Judge Sawyer Hears Case Involving Two Towns and County.

Judge Sawyer Mon. heard a case involving the towns of Greenland, Deerfield and the county of Rockingham. The town of Greenland is seeking to recover the sum of $700 which has been paid out for the case of Chas. T. Hayes who was taken ill there in 1921. Hayes had previously lived in Deerfield but left there and had worked in various places since. The selectmen and other officials of Greenland claim the town is not liable for such upkeep under the circumstances surrounding the case. Judge Sawyer will render his decision later. County Solicitor J. R. Waldron represented the county. Attorney Albert R. Hatch appeared for the town of Greenland and Aston Throp of Manchester for the town of Deerfield.

OLD CITY HALL RE-DEDICATED

(By Associated Press)

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2—The old City Hall, one of the Independence Square group of buildings was rededicated today as a prelude to a series of historical celebrations which will culminate in the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition in 1926 commemorating the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The building completed in 1791 and once used by the U. S. supreme court, was erected from the proceeds of a lottery instituted in 1789, ordered by the mayor. Twelve thousand five hundred tickets were issued, 3687 of them drawing prizes amounting to $50,000. It was provided that one-fifth of the profits be devoted to Dickinson college. The city hall has just been rebuilt as part of the restoration of the Independence Square buildings.

The U. S. Supreme Court occupied the back room on the first floor, while the first floor was given over to municipal offices. The first session of the court was held Feb. 27, 1791. John Jay presided as chief justice, having chosen that office when Washington asked him to take any post in the new Federal government he preferred. John Rutledge, William Cushing, James Wilson, John Blair and James Iredell were associate justices. Later John Rutledge and Oliver Ellsworth sat in this room as chief justices, and Bushrod Washington, Samuel Chase, Thomas Johnson, William Paterson and Alfred Moore as associate justices.

Mayor J. Hampton Moore under whose administration the building was re-dedicated today, covered the old city hall when he was a young reporter for news from the offices occupied by the mayor of that day and by some of his staff.

NEW CAR Used

What's the Difference?

Suppose you own a new car which you have driven only 7,500 miles. Suppose you and yours decide that you want a larger car, a smaller car, a closed car, or an open car, as the case may be. Suppose you know that your car has 75,000 more miles of good stuff left in it. Suppose though that on Monday morning you trade your car in on a new car which will satisfy your personal desires better.

Sunday noon your car was a comparatively new one. But on Monday noon identically the same car, with the same engine, same tires, same everything, has become a used car. Is it any the less capable? Is it any the less good looking? Is it any less comfortable? Has it any less ability to turn hours into minutes, loss into profit, discontent into happiness, or pale cheeks into roses?

Just because, for perfectly sound reasons, you have scratched out the word "new," and substituted the word "used," is that car any less a good automobile than it was just a few hours before? . . . Hardly.

Our used cars were all turned in on new ones for similarly sound reasons.

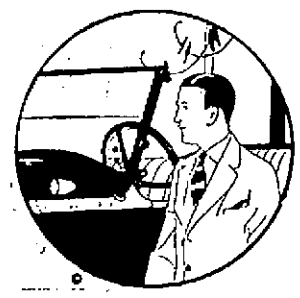

Cars which are approaching the worn-out stage and which are mechanically unfit, unhealthy, and unsound, are never offered for sale by us. They are accepted in trade at junk prices, and they are steered quickly to the nearest junk heap. Here we have only good used cars, cars which have been thoroughly inspected, cars which we are pround to sell.

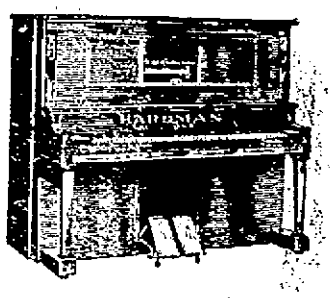

For your sake, for your family's sake, and for your pocket-book's sake, we urge you to come and see them.

BABY'S MILK

The management of Cold Spring Farm take pleasure in announcing the completion of the Tuberculin Test applied to their milking herd, which was highly satisfactory. Not one of the original herd, or of the heifers raised from the previously tested cows reacted to the test, proving conclusively that the disease cannot gain a foothold in a modern, scientifically constructed building. Our stable exceeds the requirements of the New Hampshire State Board of Health in regard to air space and window space per cow, and having cement floors and walls is as nearly germ proof as it is possible to make it. Our cattle are under the supervision of one of the most competent herdsmen in New England, are fed a ration originated and used by New Hampshire State College, and are examined every month by a competent Veterinary.

Our Baby's Milk from our Holstein herd, "conceded by the highest authorities to be the best milk for children," will remain at the present price, 12 cts. per quart. Beginning June 1 we shall put on a supply of Guernsey milk from our own herd, at 15 cts. per qt. This milk, like all our product, will be strictly fresh, the oldest not over 18 hours and the new not over 6 hours old at the time of delivery.

Monday, May 1st, we shall begin our summer delivery at Odiorne's Point and Wallis Sands. We shall always endeavor to give our patrons the highest grade milk at as reasonable a price as is consistent with good business principles. The loyal support given us in the past is thoroughly appreciated, and we promise our best efforts for the future.

ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

Fannie A. Gardiner Rebekah Lodge Celebrates its 22d Birthday.

Fannie A. Gardiner Rebekah Lodge, No. 82, celebrated its twenty-second anniversary Monday evening in I. O. O. F. hall with a banquet and upon this occasion received an official visit from the president, Mrs. Marta Way of Manchester. Special guests also were, Mrs. Emma B. Wendell, past president of the Rebekah Assembly; District Deputy Carrie A. Adams and suite and officers of Union Lodge.

The banquet was served at six-thirty o'clock in the upper hall. Long tables were arranged the entire length of the hall and festooned with pink and green crepe paper, the Rebekah colors. The elaborate menu served was as follows:

Grape Fruit
Roast Turkey with Gravy
Hot Mashed Potatoes
Cranberry Sauce
Salads
Rolls Pickles
Harlequin Ice Cream Assorted Cake
Cream Pies Coffee

The visitors and lodge members marched up from the lodge room and before all were seated the Doxology was sung. The banquet was excellent, bounteous and well cooked and served and enjoyed by every one present, while the pleasant sociability at the tables was a delightful feature. A large number of lodge members were out and the weather being pleasant enabled a number of the older members of the lodge to attend the anniversary event who cannot come regularly to the meetings.

The banquet was in general charge of Mrs. Ida A. Urch, who was assisted by Mrs. Wendell, Mrs. Mary Plumer, Mrs. Inez Barnette, Mrs. John Pearson, Mrs. Charles Hand, Mrs. Horace Gray, Mrs. Harry Clark, Mrs. Ella White, Mrs. Alice Coleman, Mrs. Emma Frederickson, Mrs. Dowdell, Mrs. Ruth Knight, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Charles Dodge, Mrs. Brewster and Mr. Wardwell. They were assisted by a number of lodge members in serving.

Following the banquet there was an informal social hour and then all adjourned to the lower hall where the lodge session was held and seven candidates initiated. The work was exemplified in a fine manner and the president of the Rebekah Assembly in an informal talk said the work was letter perfect and spoke of it in the highest praise.

Fannie A. Gardiner Lodge was instituted in this city on May 1, 1900 by Grand Master George Winch of Manchester, assisted by Grand Secretary Joseph Kidder, Grand Warden Samuel Page, Grand Marshal Albert R. Junkins, Deputy Grand Master J. A. Gilldden, Grand Conductor A. T. Barr and Grand Guardian W. O. White. The new lodge was instituted with 47 charter and ninety initiatory members.

The following officers were at that time elected and installed by District Deputy Grand Master, Mrs. Melissa Nelson:

Noble Grand—Mrs. Emma B. Wendell.
Vice Grand—Mrs. Laura Gurney
Recording Secretary—Fannie L. Deverson.
Financial Secretary—Nellie Lang
Treasurer—Mrs. Martha Towle
Warden—Grace M. Knudson
Conductor—Mrs. Fannie Trueman.
Inside Guardian—Mrs. Annie Johnson.
Outside Guardian—Orwin Griffin.
Chaplain—Mrs. Annie M. Plaisted
R. S. N. G.—Mrs. Ida A. Urch
L. S. N. G.—Mrs. Clara Whitehouse
R. S. V. G.—Mrs Ella White
L. S. V. G—Mrs. Susan A. Amee

The grand master at that time appointed Mrs. Annie S. Freeman past noble grand.

The lodge has grown in membership and strength in the 22 years of its existence and much has been accomplished and it is still active and in the last year many new members have been received.

In Loving Memory of

Jacqueline A. Steele

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is still;
A place made vacant in our hearts
Which never can be filled.
We think we see her loving smile
Altho' few days have passed,
But in our memory first she is
And will be to the last.

DAVIES WILL ACT IN LABOR STRIKE

Towns Affected by Textile Strike Demand His Action at Once.

DAVIES

A request that John S. B. Davies, labor commissioner of New Hampshire, take immediate steps to adjust differences between owners and striking employes of textile mills located in the state was the result of a conference held in Manchester on Monday among executives of all communities affected by the present strike. Commissioner Davies will start his investigation within the next three days under statutes providing for such action.

Officials of Nashua, Dover, Somersworth, Allenstown, Pembroke and Newmarket were present at the conference which was presided over by Mayor George E. Trudel of Manchester. Exeter was the only town of the state affected by the strike not to send a delegate.

Commissioner Davies should make his report on the strike in this section just in time for its consideration by another conference to be held by union leaders from strike centres of New Hampshire Massachusetts and Rhode Island which is scheduled for this city Thursday. President Thomas McMahon of the United Textile Workers, is to preside at this meeting, the announcement says.

The immediate purpose of this conference will be to lay plans for financing the strike. A country-wide canvass campaign is to be outlined at the meeting, which will assign territory to finance officers of the union.

A trade union school for textile workers is to be established in Manchester next fall, according to the present plans of union chiefs. Similar schools are in operation in other parts of the country.

MAY BASKETS CHEER INMATES OF HOME FOR AGED WOMEN

The Piscataqua Camp Fire Girls of the North Church, with Miss Gladys Joy, guardian, visited the Home for Aged Women on Deer street late Monday afternoon to extend May Day greetings to the inmates. The visitors were fifteen in number and they arrived just as the inmates were being served supper. Each of the Home family was given a May basket filled with candy and fruit and with which they were all pleased. The visit of the Camp Fire girls to the Home was a surprise but their thoughtfulness was much appreciated by the inmates as such little acts bring much good cheer to the aged people.

The many friends of Mrs. Thomas Flanagan of Islington street will be pleased to hear that her condition is reported as improving.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL TEAM HAS NO DIAMOND

The high school baseball squad had to do their practicing on Monday at the Ward playgrounds on Lafayette road as they were unable to get over to the navy yard or use the playgrounds.

Coach Wiggin wants to give the squad a good practice this afternoon at the navy yard as the team plays Wednesday afternoon in Dover, Thursday in Manchester and play the first game at home with Newburyport High on Saturday afternoon.

So far the team has been going well. More men are being developed every day, and while some of the positions are pretty definitely settled, there are still some open. Cullman is the mainstay in the box, but young Winer is developing fast and in a little while should be a good pitcher.

FRED A. TARBOX, FORMER POLICE CHIEF, DIES AT PORTLAND

Portland, Me., May 1—Fred A. Tarbox of Biddeford, who as chief of police at Newton, Mass made the arrest which resulted in the electrocution of Charles Tucker for the murder of Mabel Page at Weston, Mass., nearly a score of years ago, died at a hospital here today.

He had also been chief of police at Fitchburg, Mass., and a deputy U. S. marshal. In more recent years he was a state and private detective in Maine.

COLLECTS $4400 IN BOOZE FINES

Many Sentenced for Violation of Volstead Act.

Concord, May 1—Judge George F. Morris handed down 17 jail sentences ranging from ten days to 60 days in the Hillsborough county jail and imposed fines totalling approximately $4400 upon violators of the Volstead law at today's sitting of the U. S. court in the federal building here.

No fines were given for less than $25 and in some cases for manufacture and illegal transportation the fines ran as high as $500 and costs. The fines and sentences imposed averaged the heaviest ever given to violators of the prohibition laws in this state. Several of those fined were unable to pay them and had to be committed to jail. Those sent to jail were boarded on a special train attached to the 5 o'clock train to Manchester and were guarded on their route to the jail by a cordon of special police from the Concord department.

There were 95 arraignments before Judge Morris today, of which number 41 pleaded not guilty and the date for the opening of the trial of these cases by jury was set for April 23 by the court.

Manchester people who drew jail sentences from the court included: John Hammenan, Peter Lavasseur, 30 days; Mike Krupa, 60 days; Peter Wyskiel, Arthur Collette Lony Jamros, 10 days in jail.

Jail sentences were also given in the following cases: Nelson Ouellette Nashua; Skeffington S. Maxwell and Edward J. Hodser, Londonderry; T. P. Dillon, Boston; Francis J. Lynch Cambridge, Mass.; Tony Albert and Tony Trifeli, Haverhill, Mass.; sixty days each; Max Noren Roxbury, Steven Pietraski, Salmon Falls, Joseph E Belisle Lawrence, Mass., 30 days each; Torine Congetto Lawrence, Mass., 60 days.

Fines were handed down to Manchester people as follows: Ludger Prince, $25; Georgiana Carrier, $50; Helen Leon, $25; Newell Sampson $25; Joseph Gagnon, $25; John Beaudoin, $100; Joseph Bewrenalgcia Y dola, $100; Joseph Belanger $50; Tony Wina, $25; Manuel Megalhaes, $50; Mary Dengillo, 100; Theresa Dobeck $50; Salamo Charutte, $50; Joseph Loriisse, $25; Joseph Lesnick, $100; Arthur Myer, $100; George Bolder $200; Emile Bogin, $300; L. SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and stomach trouble and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.

BLUE TRIANGLE NOTES

The Girl Reserves are completing plans for their bazaar to be held Saturday evening at Freeman's annex This bazaar is being held by the various Girl Reserve Clubs. The Semper-amica Club being in direct charge of it.

The object of this bazaar is to raise money to pay a pledge that that High School Clubs made at the Conference held at Springfield, toward the support of a Girls' Work Secretary, Miss Lu. Pray, in Roumania. It is also hoped that enough will be made to pay part of the expenses of the High School delegates to the summer conference which is to be held at Maqua, in Poland, Maine.

There is to be a very interesting program from eight o'clock to nine. This is in charge of the Business and Professional Girls Club and the numbers on the program will be announced later.

The various booths, with their respective chairmen are as follows:

Apron Booth—Miss Ethel Adams
Doll booth—Miss Mildred Curtis.
Japanese Tea Room—Miss Ann Drew.
Novelty and Fancy Work booth—Miss Harriet Jones.
Fish Pond—Miss Gwendolyn Woods
Fortune Teller—An Adviser.
Candy Booth—Whipple School corps
Home Cooked Food booth—Freshman Corps.

GREENLAND

Greenland, May 2—The many friends of Miss Pauline Hughes are pleased to know that she is comfortable after an operation at the Portsmouth Hospital.

Miss Ethel Cooper will return home from the hospital this week.

Greenland Grange will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday night instructions on the first degree will be given by Deputy Harrison.

Mrs. George Sewell entertained the Helping Hand Society on Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance and all had a very pleasant afternoon. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostess.

The sale and entertainment given by the Ladies' Aid brought out a good crowd and a goodly sum was added to the treasury. The little miss that took the place of Miss Cogswell deserves great credit with only two days to prepare, she carried out her part without a mistake as far as the audience could see and was as much at ease as if she had been to every rehearsal.

Mrs. Annie Flint has returned to her home at Bayside after spending the winter in Detroit and Boston.

Miss Ruth Prescott and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Prescott, motored from Cambridge on Saturday to pass the week end with Mrs. Mahoney. Ruth will spend the vacation week with her aunt and uncle.

Miss Cogswell, one of our popular teachers, met with an accident causing a slight injury to one eye. At first it was thought serious, but she is in hopes to be back in a week or so. Mrs. Harold Cyphus is substituting for her.

WELL KNOWN YORK HARBOR SUMMER RESIDENT DEAD

Commander James Douglas Jerrold Kelley, U. S. N., (retired) a director of the New York Herald, under the late James Gordon Bennett died yesterday at his home in New York. He was born in New York on December 25, 1817, educated in the public schools and at Seton Hall college, and was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy by President Lincoln. He was the prize essayist of the academy.

Commander Kelley was graduated from the academy in 1861 and shortly after married Isabelle de P. Morrell. He became an ensign in 1865, a master in 1870, lieutenant in 1872, lieutenant-commander in 1893 and commander in 1899. For fifteen years he was associated with the New York Herald as naval adviser and a director.

Commander Kelley wrote several books on maritime subjects, among them 'Our Navy,' 'The Ship's Company' 'The Navy of the United States' and 'American Yachts.'

When the United States entered the world war he became censor of wireless in New York. He was interested in wireless and in 1901 assisted in establishing the first radio station at Nantucket. He also was on the board of court martial and a member of the intelligence bureau.

He is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Russell, Jr., of Boston, Mrs. Stansbury Brady of Baltimore, and Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook.

Commander Kelley was a summer resident at York Harbor for many years and was stricken with his last illness last summer but was able to be moved to his New York home.

Mrs. Bessie Critchley of Dorchester, Mass., formerly of this city passed the week end here.

ANOTHER BUNGALOW

Papers were passed Monday in the transfer of the bungalow we told you about in Saturday's Herald. The young couple who bought are as happy as can be. Why don't you come in and talk over with us this home owning idea? There is nothing difficult in being your own landlord. We have listed today another bungalow situated a little way out. Has city water, ¾ acre of land, 2-story barn, 21 young fruit trees, a rambler rose bush over front piazza, and everything. Is all this worth $3500? We think it is.

TO SELECT STANDARD 25 BOOK LIBRARY

Chicago, May 1—The best twenty-five books for a one-room country school will be selected by the votes of several thousand librarians and teachers at the annual conferences of the American Library Association in Detroit, June 26-July 1, and of the National Education Association in Boston early in July.

The winning titles will be announced after the conferences. "In order that people everywhere may know what books are considered by librarians and teachers as most interesting and useful to children in the elementary grades," it was stated by Carl H. Milam, secretary of the American Library Association.

"A recent study of children's reading in one state showed that some ... per cent of children in a given district do not read anything but the text books; and that not infrequently there are no readable books in either the schools or the homes," Mr. Milam said. "In other districts school libraries are made up of discarded books from dusty attics or of large sets of books in board after binding which nobody ever reads.

"It is the hope of the two associations conducting the contest that the selection of this list will serve to stimulate interest in good books for general reading, and to encourage the establishment and development of small school library collections. The desire of the organizations is to interest not only the teachers and library people but also the school boards, trustees, public officials, parents and the children themselves."

YOU AND THE PUBLIC UTILITIES

Motor bus and jitney lines have their proper place, but they are not a satisfactory substitute for our electric trolley lines. A number of cities after months of experimenting have adopted ordinances which practically bar jitney buses from the public streets. Two Michigan cities, Battle Creek and Muskegon, voted four to one in preference of street cars after experience with jitney service. The automobile and the jitney have played havoc with street railway investments and have put an almost complete stop to improvements and extensions. For this reason it is essential that municipal authorities shall treat the transportation problem from the economic rather than the political angle. The lower courts of Kansas City have upheld the anti-jitney ordinance of the city council forbidding jitneys to run on streets on which cars operate. In Dayton, O., the city commission has ruled that all motor buses carrying passengers must pay an extra fee of $20 a year for the upkeep of the streets. The commission holds that the taxpayer and the property owner as well as the electric railway companies must be protected. The chairman of one state commission says that loss to the public inevitably follows unreasonable and unnecessary and ... competition.

Engineers who have made a study of the problem assert that if buses were to give the same service as street cars, the cost would be no less than 25 cents instead of five cents for each fare. The fact is that the street railway was made a regulated monopoly by one generation of Americans because this was best for the public. Now another generation allows unfair competition, and forgets what their fathers did. Four-fifths of the cost of street railway transportation is the readiness-to-serve cost. It is likely that we could run our street railways for a fifth of the present cost if we were to run them as buses are run. The street cars come along on schedule, whether anybody is waiting on a corner or not. —From World's Work.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE BY HIS EXCELLENCY,

Albert O. Brown, Governor

A PROCLAMATION

In substantial compliance with President Harding's recent proclamation but selecting a later date because of our northern latitude, and in obedience to a request of the legislature made nearly two score years ago, I hereby appoint Monday, the eighth of May next, to be Arbor Day in New Hampshire.

There can be no more impressive object lesson in bad forestry, no truer commentary upon the improvident methods of the past, than the million acres of land, which once were covered with magnificent forests, but now lie unproductive and idle. The recovery of these waste areas, aggregating more than one-sixth of all the land in the state, as well as the protection of the existing woods from fire and disease and especially from the depredations of men, the chief of forest enemies, should claim our attention not only on the day designated but as long as the need shall remain.

The accustomed observance of Arbor Day requires us, among other things, to plant trees and shrubs and vines at home and by the public highways, to provide shade and beauty and fragrance for future enjoyment in parks and playgrounds and to erect living monuments for those who died in war that we may live in peace. A service so beautiful and appropriate it should be easy to perform.

As we plant trees in memory of those who fell in war, let us likewise honor him, the one hundredth anniversary of whose death this festival commemorates, in actual combat the foremost commander of the Revolution, the hero of Bunker Hill and of Bennington, General John Stark.

The day is suited for the study of the nature, culture, use and value of trees. Therefore, I suggest that both within the school room and without, such instruction be given and received as time will permit and effort supply.

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord, this twenty-sixth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-sixth.

ALBERT O. BROWN, Governor
By His Excellency, the Governor, with advice of the Council.
EDWIN C. BEAN,
Secretary of State.

Mrs. Mark Thompson is visiting in Concord.

MASONS HAVE BIG GATHERING AT THEIR ANNUAL MAY BALL

The second annual May Ball of the St. John's No. 1 Dramatic Club, was held on Monday evening at Freeman's hall and it was largely attended and a very pleasing party.

This organization have been handling a series of dances and the May Ball was the climax of a very successful social season. It was an exceptionally dressy party and the many colored costumes of the ladies made a most attractive picture from the galleries as they danced.

Brigham and Poole's orchestra rendered a fine concert program and the music for the dancing was excellent. The grand march was led by Horace W. Gray Jr., and Mrs. Harry H. Poole, followed by Mayor F. W. Hartford and Mrs. O. J. Hall, and the members of the committee and their ladies and some seventy-five couples They executed the platoon formations up to sixteens.

There were a number of novelty dances during the evening, Spot Light Streamers, Carnation and a Balloon dance and all were very much enjoyed.

During intermission supper was served in the annex.

The following were the officers of the dance and the committees:

Floor Director—Horace W. Gray, Jr.

Assistant Floor Director—J. Wallace Lear.

Aids—Orel A. Dexter, Fred C. Tucker, Leon A. Robinson, Frederick E. Harmon, George H. Clark, Edwin B. Austin, Harry H. Peate, Fred A. Gray, Reginald E. Goldsmith, R. Clyde Margeson, Carl Needham, Arthur W. Horton, Walter W. Clark, George I. Googins.

Reception Committee—John W. Durgin, Frank E. Brooks, Fernando W. Hartford, Fred E. Peckham, Edward H. Adams, Frank J. Philbrick.

General Committee—Fred C. Tucker chairman; Harry H. Foote, Secretary; Frederick E. Harmon, treasurer; Albert G. Hunt, Richman P. Margeson, Charles B. Philbrick, Charles H. A. Amhoff, Arthur M. Clark, Reginald E. Goldsmith, Edwin B. Austin, J. Wallace Lear, Stacy B. Hall, Leon A. Robinson, Orel A. Dexter, George H. Clark, Fred H. Marden, George E. Jameson, Arthur W. Horton, Edward Ball, Arnold E. Hurd, Lawrence B. Philbrick, Fred A. Gray, John W. Durgin, Horace W. Gray, Jr., William B. Randall, Scott Somerville, Carl Needham, George I Googins, Walter W. Clark.

FINAL PREPARATIONS FOR THE DANCE TONIGHT

"Pat" Garland and his boys have attended to every detail in connection with their first social tonight to be held at Pierce Hall. It seems that every one is anxious to see the boys get off to a good start and one of the merriest parties of the year is predicted. A number of student friends have made up their own parties and from present indications one will meet all their friends there tonight. Better come and join in the merriment.

LANGDON'S NIECE AND NEPHEW MUST WED FOR FORTUNE

Exemplified Will of Late Portsmouth Resident Filed in New York.

An exemplified copy of the will of the late Woodbury Langdon who died last October was filed in the Surrogates Court in New York on Monday. To his nephew Francis E. Langdon, he left an annuity of $5000 a year, but in case he marries this is cancelled and $100,000 given in its place. A niece, Helen Haven Langdon, gets an annuity of $5000 but in case of her marriage she is bequeathed $50,000 and an annuity of $2500.

The residue of the estate is bequethed to the widow, Elizabeth Elvyn Langdon, with a stipulation that at her death $25,000 each shall be given to the Portsmouth Cottage Hospital, Chase Home for Children, Home for the Aged Women and St. John's church, all in Portsmouth.

The total value of the estate is not given in the will. His New York home was at 127 Madison Ave.

WOMEN ENGAGED IN LIVELY STREET SCRAP

Hair Pulling and General Clawing Match the Outcome of Jealousy.

Hair pulling, scratching and clawing matches among females have caused quite a bit of excitement within the last few days. The scrap at the ferry landing of the P. K. and Y. St. Railway on Monday night was some lively battle in which one woman nearly took the count. In the battle near the Universalist church on Pleasant street Saturday night, the warriors were about even in the period of give and take. On both occasions words other than complimentary greetings were exchanged as well as blows and Easter "Canbonn'ts" were stripped of feathers and other decorative material. Tailor made garments suffered as well as the chapeau's and the seamstress is in line to earn a few extra dollars. The matches would draw a crowded house anywhere.

POPULAR LOCAL YOUNG MAN MARRIED IN DOVER

Leo Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smith of 433 Broad street, this city, and Miss Evelyn McIlin of Dover, were united in marriage on Monday morning at St. Mary's church, Dover, by Rev. John Bradley.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Annie McIlin and the groom by his brother, Charles Smith of this city. Following the wedding, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Smith left later on a honeymoon trip to New York. On their return they will reside in this city.

The groom is a well known and popular young man of this city. He has been a clerk in the Leary lunch wagon for some years and has been prominently identified with the dancing in this city. They are a popular young couple and they start married life with the best wishes of a host of friends.

BOY STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE BADLY INJURED

George, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Caswell of Water street was struck by an automobile at the corner of Gates and Marcy street Monday afternoon and he was badly injured. The automobile was driven by R. B. Eslinger, a warrant officer in the navy, and as soon as he had seen that the boy was given medical treatment, he reported at the police station.

The little fellow, who was riding a bicycle, was coming down the Hill on Marcy street, when the automobile which was coming through Gates street, struck him.

Dr. M. G. Higgins was called and the boy was taken to the hospital where it was found that he had sustained a fracture of his right arm and right leg and was badly bruised otherwise.

ANNUAL MAY DANCE FREEMAN'S HALL TOMORROW EVENING

Local people with an ear for music can pass a few pleasing hours at Freeman's hall tomorrow evening. The occasion is our annual May ball which has always been one of the season's stellar attractions, and this year it is destined to be bigger and more pretentious than ever. For this event we have engaged the Marden orchestra on account of the consistent satisfaction these players render. Clara Wentworth Marden, the talented leader of the orchestra is one of the best known musical directors in New England. Incomparable program played by thoroughly competent musicians under her personal direction, has qualified our local players for the very biggest attractions. The orchestra tomorrow night will be assisted by Dick Phillips the Bowdoin College saxaphone player whose services are in demand all over New England. The stage will be especially set for the occasion. Dancing at 8. A good old Portsmouth welcome to out of town dancers.

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

Some people question our sincerity when we urge our customers not to waste gas. "Why should you care?" they say. "The more gas people waste the higher the bills are and the more money you get."

To those unacquainted with the facts this sounds reasonable enough, but nothing could be further from the truth. The good-will of the public is our best asset. We want satisfied customers. It is easy to see, therefore, that a friendly customer with a small bill is more to our advantage than a customer with a big bill who thinks he has been overcharged.

Of course we can not regulate the amount of gas that you use, but we can and do urge you to take care that your consumption does not exceed your actual needs. In other words, we want you to obtain complete satisfaction from your gas service. Could anything be fairer?
